Why Become a CAP[®]

The CAP[®] designation empowers you with specialized expertise to help clients identify philanthropic intent and maximize their legacy for lasting impact

Becoming a CAP[®] professional gives you:

- ✔ Unique knowledge that spans the art and science of philanthropy
- ✔ Tools to enable you to collaborate across the table effectively
- ✔ Confidence to help clients identify and achieve their highest aspirations
- ✔ Skills to move beyond traditional estate planning and deliver greater value
- ✔ Support of a professional network in both wealth advisory and nonprofit sectors

“The CAP[®] program has added to my repertoire as an attorney, but more importantly, as a trusted advisor to individual, corporate, and nonprofit clients.”

Your Learning Outcomes

- Summarize the features and benefits of popular charitable giving tools
- Analyze the tax and financial implications of assets used to fund the tools
- Recommend charitable planning tools in light of a donor or client's overall legacy plan for self, family, and society
- Develop a charitable planning proposal for a donor or client in light of their overall legacy plan for self, family, and society

Supporting Greater Professional Diversity

The CAP[®] Program's Advisors of Color cohorts connect African American philanthropic leaders from across the nation. Now in its fifth cohort, these students represent for-profit and nonprofit organizations, as well as alumni from Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

The College is dedicated to growing racial, ethnic, and gender diversity in philanthropic planning. The African American Advisor Scholarship Program seeks to deliver educational support in the form of scholarships and career opportunities. Your Educational Journey Starts Here

There are no prerequisite courses required before you can begin our program. However, three years of full-time, relevant business experience are required to use the designation.

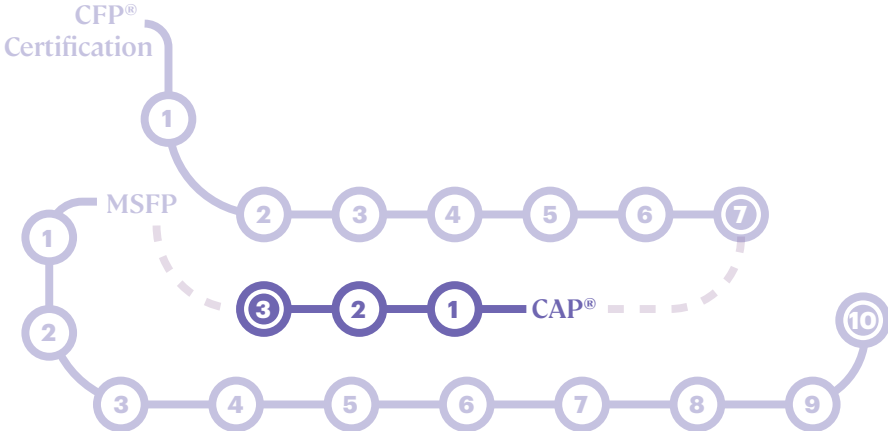

To receive and maintain the CAP® designation you must:

- Successfully complete the three required courses
- Agree to comply with The American College Code of Ethics and Procedures
- Participate in the annual Professional Recertification Program (PRP)

Your Roadmap to Success

Your learning journey doesn't have to begin or end with earning your CAP® designation. Our three-course CAP® Program can fit into any life-long learning journey with The American College of Financial Services.

Here are a few potential paths:

If you've become a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ through The College's CFP® Certification Education Program, successfully complete (3) more courses to connect your financial planning acume to a specialization in philanthropic planning. CAP® designees can then successfully complete a Master of Science in Financial Planning (MSFP) with a concentration in legacy planning.

Expand Your Opportunities

The American College of Financial Services delivers applied financial knowledge and education, promotes lifelong learning, and advocates for ethical standards for the benefit of society.
